Turn Expectations into Reality with Professional Development through Connection

COVID-19 has changed the education landscape, and many teachers are experiencing the remote classroom for the first time. To help fill the gaps in communication and collaboration that have become apparent, many schools are adopting new technology and apps at a very rapid and alarming rate. As a result, with in-person training currently out of the question, educators across the globe are struggling to balance their workloads while adopting new skillsets in ways that are not optimal. It's time to turn the tide.

Connection's professional development services assist educators with integrating appropriate and meaningful tools to increase the effectiveness of both teaching and learning.

We offer virtual training solutions that are platform agnostic. Whether you use Google, Microsoft, or Mac, we have a solution that can increase the success of technology implementations and transformative use. Our self-paced courses are an allowable expense under the CARES Act, and cover a wide variety of topics:

- STEM Pedagogy and Methodology
- 21st century STEM learning across all curriculum areas
- STEM learning tools
- Google Workspace for Education and Google Classroom
- Microsoft In Education, including Office 365, OneNote, Teams, and Sway
- Problem-based learning, and much more
