

A No-Cost, turnkey Marketplace for Smaller Higher Education Institutions

We understand the immense financial pressure and resource constraints you face everyday. We know that procurement is an essential function, but you can't always make it one of your top priorities on campus.

Our no-cost, P-card Marketplace, from E&I Cooperative Services, is a turnkey solution that brings 90% of your everyday purchasing spend under contract in one place and vastly improves spend control. The solution is custom-built for small institutions like yours and is fully managed by E&I.

There is no cost and no administrative burden. The marketplace is backed by the expertise and support of the nation's pre-eminent expert on educational procurement.

Leverage an eProcurement Marketplace designed specifically for schools like yours

Maximize spend control across campus, while reducing risk

Gain financial stewardship, stability, and control

Work with a partner you can trust

With E&I's Custom Marketplace You Will:

- ✗ Avoid the uncertainty of decentralized and unorganized purchases across departments
- ✗ Avoid rogue spend across campus
- ✗ Avoid paying too much for the items your community needs
- ✗ Avoid the time and resource drain of issuing and managing your own RFPs
- ✗ Avoid issues with contracts designed for state and local government rather than higher education
- ✗ Avoid fraud/compliance risk and exposure
- ✗ Avoid a high-pressure sales pitch

What Our Members Say

“The value of E&I to us, especially as a small institution, is that we're leveraging the buying power of over 6,000 colleges and universities...it definitely has helped us be able to get the most out of our purchasing dollars.”

Arch Asawa

Chief Financial Officer
Soka University of America

“Professionally, they've helped me tremendously with broadening my perspective to different procurement practices in higher ed. E&I focuses on higher education, they know higher education, and they know what we do - that's the benefit of working with E&I.”

Kimberly Dulaney

Executive Director of Strategic Sourcing
Radford University
