

HPC Enterprise Librarian™

Remote Library Management Service

What do we offer?

HPC Enterprise Librarian™ is a contracted library management service that provides your organization with access to masters-prepared health science librarians who assist with evidence-based clinical research, collection development, and electronic resource management and training.

Flexible and Customizable

HPC can provide support to your existing medical library team, replace retiring personnel, or create and manage a new medical library to fit your organizational budget and needs.

Fully Remote Library

HPC Enterprise Librarian™ can remotely manage your entire library. We provide day-to-day research support, manage your resource collection and associated budget, track utilization, and much more.

Improved Patient Care

Medical libraries are proven to increase the quality of patient care. Studies show that information provided by a librarian resulted in better informed clinical decisions and improved patient outcomes.

Simple Implementation

Within one week, HPC can have your remote library up and running. HPC provides a dedicated support team to initiate this service including masters-trained librarians with 10+ years of experience.

Why HPC:

HPC is a certified MBE company with 25+ years' experience in the healthcare sector. Our services are on contract with all major healthcare GPOs.
