supplier io

Successful supplier diversity starts with strong, accurate, and reliable data.

The foundation of a world-class supplier diversity program is industry-best data. You need comprehensive, accurate, and credible data to reliably report on the success of your program — and help your teams find new diverse suppliers that can give your organization an edge.

KEY BENEFITS

Everything you need

Finding the right diverse suppliers to meet your growing needs is a breeze when you've got instant access to a massive database of over 2M (and growing!) diverse suppliers.

Confident results

Confidence is key. And with data pulled from over 400 trusted sources — including certifications and affidavits — you can trust your reporting.

Exactly what you want

Need a hyper-specific product or service? With data pulled from not only certification agencies but also registration portals, company websites, and more, Supplier.io makes it easy for you to filter your requirements and find just the right diverse supplier to meet your needs.

> "Having good data really supports the drive & value of supplier diversity."

Supplier.io powers the most successful supplier diversity programs. That's because our solutions are powered by the most comprehensive, detailed and accurate diverse supplier data available.
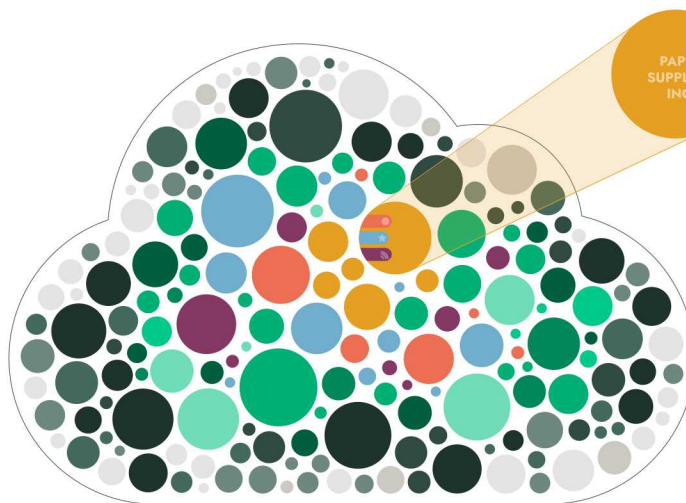

KEY FEATURES

Comprehensive global data	The Supplier.io database contains over 2M diverse suppliers from all over the world. Approximately 11K more are added each month.
Trusted sources	Data is pulled from over 400 trusted sources including certification agencies and registration portals. We collect extensive details including certification data and even affidavits for self-certified suppliers.
Extensive products and services	In addition to industry (NAICS code) and certification data, we pull detailed product and service information from the supplier's website to represent their complete offering.
Regularly updated	We consistently monitor our data for accuracy over time. If a certification lapses, you'll be automatically notified so you're always up to date.
Reviewed for quality	Our data is regularly reviewed and passes through our strict quality assurance process to ensure accuracy and prevent errors from filtering in.
