

● Time Machine

The Time Machine allows you to see the supplier's diverse status on the day you spent money with them, even if their status changes later. Your prior diverse supplier spend won't change just because a supplier is no longer diverse owned or certified.

About The Time Machine

The Annual Report publishing tool (the "Time Machine") enables authorized users to "freeze" data for a specified period. You can choose between whole fiscal or calendar years, and data can be frozen on a quarter-by-quarter basis.

Freeze Past Data

You can freeze data for any time period in the past. You can confirm your data before freezing it, so you can check for accuracy.

Establish Report of Record

Capture and freeze data on spending with suppliers when you spent it, even if supplier status changes after the fact.

Maximize Your Spend

Accurately capture diversity spend, including spend found during data enrichments.
