
Quality, functionality and comfort – all in swift timelines

“Design and function were our highest priority, with the comfort and happiness of our employees that comes from quality construction and usability.” - Erik Sedgwick Chief Product Officer, Spectrum VoIP

End User: Spectrum VoIP
Location: Irving, TX
Dealer: Tangram Interiors
Installation: June 2022

Spectrum VoIP manages a lot of inventory, and over the course of Covid lockdowns, things had “piled up” and the office was in dire need of a refresh. So, earlier this year they began a major clean-up effort and launched a remodel project. All exciting and positive – except for the concerns that with the state of the supply chain they’d be waiting 6 months to a year to completely furnish their remodel.

Luckily, Tangram Interiors was hip to AMQ and got them on the right track for fast furniture.

Spectrum VoIP’s other location was fully furnished in Steelcase, and they wanted a cohesive look and similar functionality across both locations, which AMQ offered, says Erik Sedgwick, Chief Product Officer Spectrum VoIP.

According to Alyssa Belluzzi, from Tangram Interiors, “AMQ provided a great match to the Steelcase product in their other location with the more price-savvy Kinex height adjustable benching. They also benefited from the Steelcase financing – all while meeting the customer’s requested installation date.”

Their scope of product included AMQ’s Bodi work chair, Kinex benching, Revi storage and 3F privacy screens. AMQ provided all the design work, making it easy-peezy for both dealer and end user to have confidence in the ultimate fit and finish.

Ultimately, they are delighted with their furniture, with a special callout to AMQ seating

“It was surprising how well-built and comfortable the chairs are! They have a higher back and a little different design than what we have at our other location, but they are actually more comfortable and lighter weight, for easier transport. We’re very pleased with the look and quality of construction. And the price point was certainly a plus!”

According to Sedgwick, “AMQ was able to meet our deadline and delivered exactly when we needed it. Products came fully completed, assembled, or just needing simple assembly. Tangram was on-site throughout the entire installation. They did a fantastic job.”

With the quality assurance of a Steelcase brand – but with AMQ design services, the cost and quickness only AMQ can provide – Spectrum VoIP found themselves with a fully furnished, cohesive, comfortable, fully updated office, right when it was needed. With the help of AMQ and their dealer partner, Tangram, count this one another success for easy and quick furniture. ■
