The beginning of a new chapter filled with hope and excitement starts with the move to campus. Students are under your care and we understand how important it is to you to keep them safe.

Furniture safety standards might not be something you've considered before but as a manufacturer of STURDY-compliant furniture, we couldn't be prouder to say that our products meet the rigorous standards set forth by the STURDY ACT.

Compliance is a legal requirement that the Consumer Product Safety Commission is enforcing and they take their job very seriously.

The FAQ page on cpsc.gov clearly states that clothing storage units intended for school dormitories “are considered to be ‘consumer products’ under the jurisdiction of CPSC and, therefore, are subject to applicable product safety rules, such as 16 CFR part 1261.”
